HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions disordered. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations, and inquiries possessed true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.
DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, becomes healthy, becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.
PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the ardor and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.
NOTICE.
It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; on the contrary, they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.
WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will use in every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.
TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 18, 1795.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of great debility in the digestive organs, and want of nervous action in the system.
Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."
HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 23, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in cases of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."
FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, declined; but with a clear conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.
FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL.
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours truly, E. D. FENDALL.

BESIDE THE STILE.

We both walked slowly o'er the yellow grass,
Beneath the sunset sky;
And then he climbed the stile I did not pass,
And there we said good-by.

He paused one moment—I leaned on the stile,
And faced the hazy lane;
But neither of us spoke until we both
Just said good-by again.

And I went homeward to our quaint old farm,
And he went on his way;
And he has never crossed that field again,
From that time to this day.

I wonder if he ever gives a thought
To what he left behind;
As I start sometimes, dreaming that I hear
A footstep in the wind.

If he had said but one regretful word,
Or I had shed a tear,
He would not go alone about the world,
Nor I sit lonely here.

Alas! our hearts were full of angry pride,
And love was choked in strife;
And so the stile, beyond the yellow grass,
Stands straight across our life.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

A COLORED AUTHORESS.

In a few days G. W. Carleton & Co., of New York, will publish a book called behind the scenes," by Elizabeth Keckley, "formerly a slave, but more recently modiste, and friend to Mrs. Abraham Lincoln." The book contains a portrait of Mrs. Keckley, which shows us a colored woman of more than ordinary intelligence, and a decided European caste of countenance. Mrs. Keckley resides at No. 14 Carroll Place, New York. She says in her profuce that her life, so full of romance, may sound like a dream, but everything she has written is strictly true. Of Mrs. Lincoln she says: "No woman was ever more traduced in the public prints of the country. . . . She may have been imprudent, but her intentions were good." At another place she says:

I am not the special champion of the widow of our lamented President; the render of the pages which fellow will discover that I have written with the utmost frankness in regard to her—have exposed her faults as well as given her credit for honest motives.

Mrs. Keckley was born at Dinwiddie Court House, in Virginia. After a fearful account of her girlhood as a slave, she tells her readers how she gained her freedom. Her master not succeeding in Virginia, moved to St. Louis, where he became so poor that the servants had to be put out to work. Mrs. Keckley became a seamstress and dressmaker in St. Louis. She says:

The best ladies in St. Louis were my patrons, and when my reputation was once established I never lacked for orders. With my needle I kept bread in the mouths of seventeen persons for two years and five months.

For twelve hundred dollars she purchased her freedom, and in the spring of 1860 left St. Louis for the North. She attempted to teach her art of cutting dresses to a class of colored ladies in Baltimore, but was unsuccessful, and in six weeks went to Washington. She says:

The summer passed, winter came and I was still in Washington. Mrs Davis, wife of Senator Jefferson Davis, came from the South in November of 1860, with her husband. Learning that Mrs. Davis wanted a modiste, I presented myself, and was employed by her on the recommendation of one of my patrons and her intimate friend, Mrs. Captain Hetsil. I went to the house to work, but finding that they were such late risers, and as I had to fit many dresses on Mrs. Davis, I told her that I should prefer giving half the day to her, working the other in my own room for some of my other lady patrons. Mrs. Davis consented to the proposition, and it was arranged that I should come to her own house every day after 12 M. It was the winter before the breaking out of that fierce and bloody war between the two sections of the country; and as Mr. Davis occupied a leading position, his house was the resort of politicians and statesmen from the South. Almost every night, as I learned from the servants and other members of the family, secret meetings were held at the house; and some of these meetings were protracted to a very late hour. The prospects of war were freely discussed in my presence by Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their friends.

Early in the year 1860 Mrs. K. bade the family of Jeff. Davis good bye at Washington. She says that a few weeks before Mrs. Davis left Washington she made two chintz wrappers for her. Mrs. K. attended the charity fair held in Chicago in 1865. She writes:

In one part of the building was a wax figure of Jefferson Davis, wearing over his other garments the dress in which it was reported that he was captured. There was always a great crowd around this figure, and I was naturally attracted towards it. I worked my way to the figure, and, in examining the dress, made the pleasing discovery that it was one of the chintz wrappers that I had made for Mrs. Davis a short time before she departed from Washington for the South. When it was announced that I recognized the dress as one that I had made for the wife of the late Confederate President, there was great cheering and excitement.

Mrs. Keckley gives an interesting account of the way in which she happened to be engaged by Mrs. Lincoln. She met Mrs. Lincoln through the influence of Mrs. General McClean, who was one of her patrons. We read:

It appears that Mrs. Lincoln had upset a cup of coffee on the dress she designed wearing on the evening of the reception after the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln as President of the United States, which rendered it necessary that she should have a new one for the occasion. On asking Mrs. McClean who her dress maker was, that lady promptly informed her, "Lizzie Keckley."

"Lizzie Keckley? The name is familiar to me. She used to work for some of my lady friends in St. Louis, and they spoke well of her. Can you recommend her to me?"

"With confidence. Shall I send her to you?"

"If you please, I shall feel under many obligations for your kindness."

An hour was appointed for Mrs. Keckley to meet Mrs. Lincoln at the White House.

"You have come at last. Mrs. Keckley, who have you worked for in the city?"

"Among others, Mrs. Senator Davis has been one of my best patrons," was my reply.

"Mrs. Davis! So you have worked for her, have you? Of course you gave satisfaction; so far, good. Can you do my work?"

"Yes, Mrs. Lincoln. Will you have much work for me to do?"

"That, Mrs. Keckley, will depend altogether upon your prices. I trust that your terms are reasonable. I cannot afford to be extravagant. We are just from the West, and are poor. If you do not charge too much, I shall be able to give you all my work."

The dress was a bright antique. Mrs. Keckley finished it, and took it to the White House.

We read as follows:

Tuesday evening came, and I had taken the last stitches on the dress. I folded it and carried it to the White House, with the waist for Mrs. Grimsly. When I went up stairs, I found the ladies in a terrible state of excitement. Mrs. Lincoln was protesting that she could not go down, for the reason that she had nothing to wear.

"Mrs. Keckley, you have disappointed me—deceived me. Why do you bring my dress at this late hour?"

"Because I have just finished it, and I thought I should be in time."

"But you are not in time, Mrs. Keckley; you have utterly disappointed me. I have no time now to dress, and, what is more, I will not dress, and go down stairs?"

"I am sorry if I have disappointed you, Mrs. Lincoln, for I intended to be in time. Will you let me dress you? I can have you ready in a few minutes."

"No, I won't be dressed. I will stay in my room. Mr. Lincoln can go down with the other ladies."

"But there is plenty of time for you to dress, Mary," joined in Mrs. Grimsly and Mrs. Edwards. "Let Mrs. Keckley assist you, and she will soon have you ready."

Thus urged, she consented. I dressed her, and arranged the dress on her. It fitted nicely, and she was pleased. Mr. Lincoln came in, threw himself on the sofa, laughed with Willie and little Tod, and then commenced pulling on his gloves, quoting poetry all the while.

"You seem to be in a poetical mood to-night," said his wife.

"Yes, mother, these are poetical times," was his pleasant reply. "I declare, you look charming in that dress. Mrs. Keckley has met with great success." And then he proceeded to compliment the other ladies.

The death of little Willie Lincoln is written about in a very simple and affecting manner. Mrs. Keckley says:

I was worn out with watching, and was not in the room when Willie died, but was immediately sent for. I assisted in watching him and dressing him, and then laid him on the bed, when Mr. Lincoln came in. I never saw a man so bowed down with grief. He came to the bed, lifted the cover from the face of his child, gazed at it long and earnestly, murmuring, "My poor boy, he was too good for this earth. God has called him home. I know that he is much better off in Heaven, but then we loved him so. It is hard, hard to have him die!"

Great sobs choked his utterance. He buried his face in his hands, and his tall frame was convulsed with emotion. I stood at the foot of his bed, my eyes full of tears, looking at the man in silent, awe stricken wonder. His grief unnerved him, and made him a weak, passive child. I did not dream that his rugged nature could be so moved.

Mrs. Keckley gives the following as Mr. Lincoln's opinion of General Lee.

The very morning of the day on which he was assassinated, his son, Captain Robert Lincoln, came into the room with a portrait of General Lee in his hand. The President took the picture, laid it on the table before him, scanned the face thoughtfully, and said: "It is a good face; it is the face of a noble, noble, brave man. I am glad that the war is over at last." Looking up at Robert, he continued: "Well, my son, you have returned safely from the front. The war is now closed, and we will soon live in peace with the brave men that have been fighting against us. I trust that the era of good feeling has returned with the war, and that henceforth we shall live in peace.

Mrs. Lincoln contracted large debts of which her husband knew nothing. Her reason for it was this:

They consist chiefly of store bills. I owe altogether about twenty-seven thousand dollars, the principal portion at Stewart's in New York. You understand, Elizabeth, that Mr. Lincoln has but little idea of the expense of a woman's wardrobe. He glances at my rich dresses, and is happy in the belief that the few hundred dollars that I obtain from him supply all my wants. I must dress in costly materials. The people scrutinize every article that I wear with critical curiosity. The very fact of having grown up in the West subjects me to more searching observation. To keep up appearances I must have money—more than Mr. Lincoln can spare me. He is too honest to make a penny outside of his salary, consequently I had, and still have, no alternative but to run in debt.

A long account is given of Mr. Lincoln's tragic death, and the fearful grief of Mrs. Lincoln. It will be read with bated breath and tearful eyes by every American who peruses the book. The following extracts will be of interest to the render.

The dress that Mr. Lincoln wore on the night of the assassination was given to Mrs. Slade, the wife of an old and faithful messenger. The cloak, stained with the President's blood, was given to me, as also was the bonnet worn on the same memorable night. Afterwards I received the comb and brush that Mr. Lincoln used during his residence at the White House. With this same comb and brush I had often combed his head. When almost ready to go down to a reception he would turn to me with a quizzical look: "Well, Madame Elizabeth, will you brush my bristles down to-night?"

"Yes, Mr. Lincoln."

Then he would take his seat in an easy chair, and sit quietly while I arranged his hair. As may be imagined, I was only too glad to accept this comb and brush from the hands of Mrs. Lincoln. The cloak, bonnet, comb and brush, the glove worn at the first reception after the second inaugural, and Mr. Lincoln's overshoes, also given to me, I have since donated for the benefit of Wilberforce University, a colored college near Xenia, Ohio, destroyed by fire on the night that the President was murdered.

The book gives an account of Mrs. Lincoln's removal from the White House, and her subsequent career. It explains the matter of her offering her wardrobe for sale, and contains a large amount of other interesting matter. The style of the work is as pure and simple as the Queen's Journal, and it is none the less worthy of our admiration because it came from the hand of an humble colored woman. The spirit in which the book is written is to be commended. When every man's pen and all mouths were uttering bitter thing about Mrs. Lincoln, her old colored servant is the only one who can stand before the world as her defender. BEHIND THE SCENES is sure to attract a good deal of attention, and make for itself a large class of readers.

Initiating a Candidate into the Good Templars.

The method of initiating a candidate into the Good Templars is but a slight improvement upon the same programme so long in vogue by the ancient and honorable fraternity of the "Sons of Malta." A chap who was taken from a lager beer saloon, where he got tight without knowing that lager would intoxicate, was put through a course of cold water treatment by the Good Templars a few evenings since. He preaches on the Templars and gives the following expose for their initiation ceremony, for which, no doubt, he will be put through another course of cold water "sprouts" at the next meeting of the lodge. In the first place the victim for initiation is blindfolded, bound hand and foot, and thrown into a cider press and pressed five or ten minutes. This is done for the purpose of clearing his system of "old drinks." He is then taken out of the cider press and by means of a force pump gorged with cistern water, after which a sealing plaster is put over his mouth and he is rolled in a barrel four or five times across the room, the choir at the same time singing the cold water song.

He is now taken out of the barrel and hung up by the heels till the water runs out through his ears. He is then cut down and a beautiful young lady hands him a glass of cistern water. A cold water bath is then furnished him, after which he is showered with cistern water. He is then made to read the water works acts ten times, drinking a glass of cistern water between each reading, after which the old oaken bucket is hung around his neck, and fifteen sisters with squirt guns deluge him with cistern water. He is then forced to eat a peck of snow, while the brothers stick his ears full of icicles. He is then run through a clothes wringer, after which he is handed a glass of water by a young lady. He is then again gorged with cistern water, and his boots filled with the same, and he is laid away in a refrigerator. The initiation is now almost concluded. After remaining in the refrigerator for the space of half an hour, he is taken out and given a glass of cistern water, run through a clothes wringer, and becomes a Good Templar.

THE HEBREW RACE.—A Richmond magistrate thus spoke of the Jews. "I was Commonwealth Attorney of the city of Richmond for twenty-one years, and, in that long interval, I prosecuted only three Jews, and two of them were most honorably acquitted, there being not a particle of evidence to sustain the charges. During my fourteen years of service as a magistrate only one Jew was before me for trial and he was acquitted. In that long period I do not remember ever having application for public charity from any individual of either sex, or any age, belonging to that faith, and, so far as I am aware, no Jewish child has ever received the benefits of our free schools, for which their parents without murmur pay their taxes."

PROMPT PAY.—An exchange gives the following excellent advice, which we commend to the careful perusal of our readers:

No one should neglect giving attention to the bills he owes his tradesman. It should be remembered that nearly all those to whom debts are due, have their own debts to pay. Customers and consumers owe retail dealers and small shops; retail dealers and small employers owe the wholesale men and large employers; these in their turn owe the great manufacturers, the planters and farmers, the importer and other heavy operators; and these owe the banks and bankers; and the banks owe other banks, and owe their stockholders and other creditors, and furnish the money to pay employees, mechanics, laborers, clerks, salesmen, &c., and thus we get back to the customers and consumers who owe the small bills. These last, then, are but the rivulets that swell into the great streams of payments necessary at this season to keep everybody's credit good, and keep the wheels of industry and business in healthy motion. Unless the rivulets flow actively, the rivers will be sluggish, and the great sea formed by the many small streams become dry and stagnant. Let all then make it a point to pay bills promptly, whether small or large, and thus help each other.

SCHOOLMASTER—"Bill Smith what is a widow?"

Bill—"A widow is a married woman that hasn't got no husband 'cause he's dead."

Master—"Very well, what is a widower."

Bill—"A widdiwor is a man what runs arter widders."

Master—"Well Bill, that's not exactly according to Johnson, but it will do."

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, May 13, 1868.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

OUR CANDIDATES:

FOR PRESIDENT,

U. S. GRANT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

A. G. CURTIN.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL,

GEN. JOHN F. HARTRANFT,

OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL,

GEN. JACOB M. CAMPBELL,

OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

☞Gen. Beaver of Centre, Chairman of the Soldiers' and Sailors' State Central Committee, has appointed members in each county. Major W. F. Johnston of this place has been appointed for this county.

☞The La Crosse Democrat is of opinion that the Republicans will be beaten in the Presidential election, because "the people are preparing for a great devil hunt about that time, when they will smite, slay, and spare not."

☞The New York Tribune makes this observation: Were Mr. Chase nominated and cordially supported by the Democrats, we believe he would come nearer to beating General Grant than any other living man possibly could.

☞The Harrisburg State Guard is an independent paper in the right place. If it perseveres it will succeed in reforming legislation. The best thing that can be said in its favor, is, that corrupt politicians and "rings" all over the State denounce it.

Impeachment.

To-day, Tuesday, the verdict of the High Court of Impeachment will be rendered. What it will be it is impossible to say, with a certainty. The general impression is that before to-morrow evening Mr. Wade will occupy the White House, and then there will be another scramble for the spoils.

THE LATEST.—We have news up to 3.30 o'clock yesterday. Senators were making their fifteen minute speeches. Henderson, (Rep.) from Missouri, was speaking against impeachment. "This," adds the dispatch, "has discouraged the friends of impeachment somewhat."

☞An election for Burgess, Town Council and other officers of the borough of Chambersburg, was held last Monday. The result was a sweeping triumph for the Republicans, who elected their whole ticket by handsome majorities. It was a clean sweep throughout. This shows a healthy condition of political affairs in the "Green Spot."

☞The municipal election of Lancaster city took place on the 1st inst. The Democratic candidate for Auditor was elected by 324 majority; being a Republican gain of 117. The Republicans gained one member of Select and nine members of Common Council, making a tie on joint ballot. Last year they stood 27 Democrats to 9 Republicans.

☞The "Daily Legislative Record" of the proceedings of our Legislature is more of a swindle now than ever. The Legislature adjourned a month ago and the Record is not yet completed. Perhaps we will soon hear of another "waste paper" speculation by the employees about the State House. Some of the most guilty of last year were honored by the last session instead of being punished. An honest Legislature would be a great curiosity.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.—The statement of the public debt on May 1, as compared with April 1, 1868, shows that during the past month the debt bearing coin interest has increased $18,037,450. The debt bearing currency interest has decreased $1,390,700. The matured debt not presented for payment has decreased $21,131,100. The debt bearing no interest has increased $1,477,040. The total debt has decreased $2,106,710. The amount of coin in the Treasury has increased $7,630,040 and the amount of currency has increased $8,944,109, making a decrease in the total debt, less cash in the Treasury, of $18,680,860.

THE IMPEACHMENT.—On Friday, May 1, Mr. Evarts, counsel for the President, closed his four days argument, and was followed by Mr. Stanberry, who closed at 3:10 P. M. Saturday. Mr. Bingham, one of the Managers, commenced his argument on Monday, and closed on Wednesday at 2½ o'clock.

On Tuesday, the Senate passed the following resolution, which was introduced by Mr. Morrill, of Vermont:

Ordered, That when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of deliberating on the rules for the Senate sitting on the trial of the impeachment; and that on Tuesday next following, at 12 o'clock m., the Senate shall proceed to vote, without debate, on the several articles of impeachment, and each Senator shall be permitted to file, within two days after the vote is taken, his written opinion, to be printed with the proceedings of the Senate.

Enlargement of the Canals.

The long contemplated enlargement of the Canal to tidewater, which has hitherto been delayed by want of harmony among the several companies owning the Canals, has now as will appear by the following extract from the Public Ledger been arranged:

"An arrangement of much importance to the coal, iron and lumber interests of this State, has been consummated between the several canal lines on the Susquehanna river and its branches, embracing the Wyoming Canal, the West Branch and Susquehanna, the Pennsylvania, and the Susquehanna and Tidewater Canals. These several companies together owning the whole system of canals draining the great interior of the State, and connecting it with tidewater, have entered into a contract which takes effect immediately. By this contract they respectively bind themselves to operate their canals as one line on all through tonnage, to pro-rate all through tolls, and to enlarge all of their canals by the spring of 1871 to six feet depth of water. It is estimated by the parties interested that the above arrangement will effect a reduction of one half on the vast tonnage of anthracite and bituminous coal, lumber, and iron which annually seeks tidewator by these lines, and will at once create an outlet for the bituminous coal of Pennsylvania, which will enable it to command the New York and Eastern markets, thereby vastly extending the business and tonnage of the Susquehanna valley."

The main object of the enlargement is wo presumo to afford cheap transportation to the coal, lumber, iron ore, limestone, sand, fire clay and other heavy products of the interior of our State, which will not bear the expense of railroad carriage, and which the railroad companies are willing to be relieved from carrying. The head of navigation will naturally be somewhere in the limits of Huntingdon County as the Canal and Railroad diverge at Petersburg, and the object being to avoid all the rail transportation possible, it will hardly be fixed below our Borough, as that would throw the Broad Top trade on the Pennsylvania Railroad, until it reached the enlargement. The room which will be required for the transhipment of the various coals, lumber, &c., will be considerable, but it would appear to us, that the space between the Railroad and Canal, through and above West Huntingdon, with some little shifting of the track and other small expenditure is amply sufficient. The importance of this matter to our town can hardly be over estimated, as it would necessarily lead to the introduction of manufactures which would work up the raw materials thus concentrated here, and this leads us to suggest this point as well adapted to the manufacture of Pig Iron, as all the materials could be concentrated here, such as Anthracite coal, the Bituminous coals along the Pennsylvania Railroad, and from Clearfield, and from Broad Top—the Iron Ores from Bedford, from Tussey Mountain, and other points on the Broad Top Road—from Williamsburg by Canal—from Baker's Bank, by Pennsylvania Railroad, from Barree, and from any other source, along the various railroads and on the Canal—Limestone from the dam above town by flat boat, and Hearth Stone from Warrior Ridge only a couple of miles away.

How Andrew G. Curtin is Regarded in Ohio.

While the Republicans of Ohio are devoted to the claims of Hon. Wade as a candidate for Vice President, they are not unwilling to do justice to men of distinguished ability from other States who are presented by their fellow-citizens as candidates for the same position. This is verified by an article in the Mansfield (O.) Herald of the 6th inst., from which we make the following extract:

"From Pennsylvania, ex-Gov. Andrew G. Curtin has been recommended by the State convention, and a more able, and talented man could not be presented by that Commonwealth. As Governor of Pennsylvania during the time of the entire rebellion, he was remarkably efficient; no State troops were better cared for than Pennsylvania soldiers, and Gov. Curtin will always be remembered as the "soldier's friend," the proudest title that could be bestowed upon any one. Gov. Curtin will have many friends in the coming Convention, and if an Eastern man is to be selected, no one spoken of has greater capacity for the position. After honestold Ben. Wade, our choice would be for Andrew G. Curtin, who would secure the Keystone State to the Republican party by fifty thousand majority, and who would strengthen the ticket in every way."

In this connection we are forcibly reminded of the fact that while some of Ben. Wade's professed friends in Pennsylvania are publicly defaming and secretly plotting to defeat Andrew G. Curtin for the Vice Presidency, Ben. Wade's real friends in Ohio do not hesitate to concede the fact that Curtin is the only man who can carry the Keystone State beyond the peradventure of a doubt. When it is freely admitted that without Pennsylvania Grant cannot be elected President, this fact assumes a momentous importance.—Harrisburg State Guard.

THE TARIFF.—The Committee of Ways and Means of the U. S. House of Representatives appointed a subcommittee some months ago to take into consideration the revision of the Tariff. As soon as the impeachment trial is over the Committee is expected to report, and the Tariff question will be brought to the immediate attention of Congress. It is understood that the report will be favorable to an increase of duty on certain articles that require protection. The subject is one that interests the people of Pennsylvania especially, and they will be glad to hear that it is soon to receive that attention at the hands of our legislators which its importance demands.

THE STORM KING.

Extraordinary Hail Storm in Missouri Terrible Tornadoes in Iowa and Illinois.–Destruction of Property and Loss of Life.–Atmospheric Phenomenon at Chicago, etc., etc.

On Saturday last, the 2d inst., after we had experienced some dreadful spring weather in Pittsburgh and vicinity, the weather took a sudden change, the sky becoming overcast with dark, lowering clouds, and since then there have been a succession of rains and thunder showers, covering a period of five days, and which altho' not extraordinary in their character, were certainly remarkable for their number. There seemed to be unusual atmospheric combinations at work, because, notwithstanding the numerous heavy rains, some of which were accompanied with vivid lightning, the temporature still kept up; and, even after the storms, it was observed that the atmosphere seemed more saltry than before. Yesterday was ushered in with a bright sun, and the mercury had fallon somewhat, indicating a general "clearing up," but in a few hours the sky was again overcast, rain commenced falling, and the storm, or rather series of storms, still continues. In Western Pennsylvania, so far as we are at present advised, no damage has resulted, but on the other hand the rains have brought vegetation forward with encouraging rapidity. In the West, and especially in Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, great damage has been done, and the extraordinary commotions there may account for the unusual condition of the elements here, as they correspond in regard to time.

EXTRAORDINARY HAIL STORM IN MISSOURI.

On Saturday evening a most extraordinary hail storm was experienced in Southwest Missouri, at Arlington. The storm came up from the South, with a limited range, accompanied with heavy thunder and vivid lightning, and driven onward by a furious wind. Amid torrents of rain the hail came, of most portentous size, solid, hard as wintry ice, the stones ranging in weight from two to ten ounces.—They stormed down on the houses and streets of the town with frightful violence and destructive effect. Not a house escaped having glass shattered and destroyed.

Hail stones as large as a man's fist, amid myriads of smaller ones, rattled down for the space of twenty minutes, tormenting beards, driving men, horses and cattle to such shelter as could be found, killing some of the smaller animals which could find no screen from the furious and fatal storm. The citizens of the town took refuge in dwellings and stores, clustering in fright in the very centers, away from windows, which afforded no guard against the dashing hail.

TORNADO AT MUSCATINE, IOWA.

On Sunday the 3d inst., the most terrible tornado since 1844 visited Muscatine and vicinity. The tornado approached in the form of an inverted funnel, and described almost a semi-circle around the city. Fences were prostrated, windows shattered, trees uprooted, and in some instances houses were blown away in pieces. The house of Benj. F. Miller was blown to atoms, but the family was fortunately absent on a visit. A large frame church was lifty lifted from its foundation and scattered to the winds. Some of the books belonging to the congregation were afterwards found several miles off. A brick school house shared the same fate.

A FEARFUL SCENE.

The tornado struck the house of Mr. Lindley Hoopes, destroying house, furniture, barn, cattle, and almost everything he possessed. There were in the house at time, Mr. Hoopes and his family, and his son-in-law, Mr. Bartlett, and his wife. The tornado was discovered a minute or two before it struck the house, and the occupants succeeded in reaching the cellar save Mr. Bartlet and his wife. They were in the act of going down stairs, when they were suddenly dropped to the ground amid a mass of ruins, with a portion of the roof upon them. Mr. Bartlett states that just previous to falling to cast his eyes into the room he had occupied and saw the bed turned upside down. He was dug out of the ruins severely bruised; but his wife, strange to say, escaped with scarcely any injury. Mr. Hoopes and his family were nearly buried in the cellar, but the obstructions were soon removed, and it was found that Mrs. Hoopes, a little girl, and Wm. Hoopes were slightly bruised, though otherwise the family were uninjured.

Other buildings in the same neighborhood were injured and destroyed, and thousands of fruit trees were broken down. Hail stones fell as large as hen eggs, and at one place an ox was pelted to death by them. The devastation caused by this tornado extended about ten miles.

AT PEORIA—BOY KILLED.

On Sunday a terrific thunder shower burst upon Peoria, Illinois. A discharge of lighning struck the Germania Fire Company's engine house. A boy named Charles Vogal, who stood at the door, was struck on the head, knocked down and killed. His cap was torn to shreds. His heart beat for ten minutes after he was picked up.

FEARFUL TORNADO AT SHANGHAI—LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

On Sunday evening the village of Shanghai, Warren county, Illinois, was visited by a most appalling storm of wind, rain and hail, destroying many houses, and making others desolate. The storm was first observed approaching in a cone-shaped cloud, about a quarter of a mile in diameter, and whirling round with great violence. Its power was first discovered in a pond near Mr. John Doggett's house, two miles and a half west of town. It literally sucked large quantities of water out of the pond and up into the air, almost making the pond entirely dry. It went on, gathering new strength, leveling fences, twisting off trees, and sweeping everything before it. There were fifteen dwelling houses totally destroyed. Many of them were picked up by the whirlwind, lifted into the air and carried quite a distance, and then, seemingly with demoniac fury, dashed to the ground and shivered into a million fragments. Seven other dwellings were blown from their foundations. A fine school house, and two churches—the only ones in the village—were scattered in fragments over the prairie for nearly half a mile.

AN AWFUL SCENE IN CHURCH.

The congregation of the Second Advent Church, Rev. G. W. Hurd, was at service when the storm came up.—The windows began to shake, and some one called out from his seat, "Mr. Hurd, a bad storm is coming up." The minister answered, "Never mind the storm; there is a day coming when there will be a storm compared with which this will be nothing. It will be through soon." Just then the hail and wind commenced breaking in the window lights, and in almost an instant the windows of the church, sash and all, were torn out.

The only two persons who succeded in getting out were George Vorn and Harrison Wixon, who were instantly killed. The building reeled like a drunken man, but none could get out. Wives clung to their husbands, children to their parents, brothers and sisters to each other, and despair was depicted upon every countenance.—Suddenly the crash came and with a deafening sound mingled with the shrieks of the pent up people, timbers, scantling and all came down with a sudden crash upon the devoted heads of the congregation, men, women, and children. Some had skulls broken, others arms, others received internal injuries from which they can never recover. There are several who did not receive a scratch, but nearly all were more or less injured.

A PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPE.

Services were to have been held at the same hour in the Methodist church, but owing to the non arrival of the minister the services were postponed. This church was also entirely demolished.

PHENOMENON AT CHICAGO.

On Tuesday last Chicago was enveloped in such dense and sudden darkness as to cause dread and alarm in the minds of the citizens of that wicked place. Thrice, in rapid succession, was the city plunged in this deep darkness; but the cloud lifted finally in a few moments, and disappeared as suddenly as it came. There were doubtless, more prayers said in those few minutes than were ever uttered in Chicago in the same space of time.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE IMPEACHMENT.

WASHINGTON, May 9, 1868.

There are no further significant developments in regard to impeachment. The Democratic evening paper concedes that the President will be convicted, but two or three Senators, who have been looking over the ground, are not yet sure of such a result. The strong impeachment men of the House are, however, entirely confident of success. Large numbers of Republican Senators have been engaged to day in looking over the law and facts, and a majority of them are deemed to be thus engaged this morning. Mr. Edmunds is writing a careful and elaborate opinion, about which there is more than usual interest, as he drew up the tenure-of-office act, and had charge of it at every stage in the Senate. There is a good deal of quiet consultation and canvassing going on this evening.

May 10.—The anxiety to learn the situation of the impeachment question has pervaded all circles to-day. Little has become known as to the views of Senators upon any particular article, nor has anything come to light to impair the confidence which the Republicans have felt for the last two days in conviction. The Senate will open at ten o'clock, and the first question for settlement will be the manner in which Senators shall declare their vote. It afterwards debate follows on the main question, it is believed that the result can be correctly foreshadowed by to-morrow night.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Brief Items.

—Decided improvement: the new entrance to the Cemetery.

—The time-table of the Broad Top Railroad changes to-day.

—The cherry trees are in full blow, and so 's the influenza.

—Everybody read advertisement of Wm. B. Zeiglor, and give him a call and examine stock.

—All who want to buy cheap clothing will direct their attention to the advertisement of I. Rudolph.

—The Sons of Temperance are in successful operation in this place. They meet every Saturday night.

—When the Pacific Railroad is completed, a traveler may go round the world in three months.

—We have been visited by heavy white frosts for a week past. Of course the tender plants and fruit blossoms suffered somewhat.

—Excellent sugar, it is said, can be made from the sap of the white birch. Schoolboys have often been sweetened with the twigs thereof.

—A charter has been obtained by a company in Mifflin county for a railroad to be built between Reedsville and Belleville.

—Hon. James L. Rea, Associate Judge of Blair county, died at Hollidaysburg, on Tuesday, in the 57th year of his age.

—Impeachment can't touch first class Lead, Oil and Paints, such as were bought in ton lots, and are now being sold so rapidly by J. A. Brown, Huntingdon, Pa.

—A man in Cavendish, Vt., was mean enough to charge a dollar for acting as pall-bearer at the funeral of a poor woman who was buried at the expense of the town.

—The quantity of gold now in existence is estimated to be three thousand million dollars, which, welded in one mass, could be contained in a cube of twenty-three feet.

—A Boston youngster is congratulating himself that he has got the measles at last. He says he shall not any longer be kept from playing with the boys, for fear he may catch it.

—Kaolin clay, a North Carolina paper states, is sent North from that State in large quantities, to be used in the manufacture of meerschaum pipes and the adulteration of flour.

—Miller, Williams & Co. have got under way in the manufacture of their popular wheel, harness and Machine Grease. They are now filling orders from retail dealers in every direction.

—The Franklin Repository, an able Republican paper, has been purchased by Jere. Cooke and S. W. Hays—A. K. McClure retiring. We wish the incumbents success in their undertaking.

—Over 50,000 bushels of wheat and rye were raised in Middle Woodberry township, Bedford county, last year. In addition there were large crops of corn, oats and hay.

—Two big fish have been caught in the Juniata river near Lewistown. One was a catfish 18½ inches in length and 4 inches across the eyes, and the other was a pike 22½ inches in length and weighed 3 pounds 7 ounces.

—Mr. Noah Wigfield, of Bedford county, was killed by lightning on Saturday morning, a week ago. He was in his kitchen by the chimney, with his hat on, which was torn by the electric fluid, leaving a mark on the body of the deceased.

—The Germantown Telegraph says there is no better protection against robbers than the presence in the house of a little terrier. They are better than a dozen bull dogs or loafing Newfoundlands outside. That's so; 'Pedro' endorses it with an approving 'bark.'

—The Bible Class of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet in their room on Sunday afternoon next, at quarter till four o'clock. The public have a standing invitation to attend the Bible Class and also the Reading Rooms of the Association.

—Improvement in the external appearance of dwellings is still the order of the day in ye ancient borough, and many of the old residences are assuming a youthful appearance. Old and dilapidated barracks are at a discount.

—A friend asked us the other day, how do your people make money when they have no manufactories in their midst. The only answer we could give him was that our people were rich, and lived off the interest of their money in foreign investments.

—The Presbyterians of Hollidaysburg are going to erect a twenty-five thousand dollar church, and the Presbyterians of Bellefonte propose doing the same. The Presbyterians of Huntingdon don't know whether they will or not, although they have some such move under consideration.

—We learn from the Cambria Freeman that Mr. John Wherley, a saloonkeeper of this place, has bought out Mr. John O. Jones, farmer, of Cambria township, and takes possession on the first of June. For the farm of 125 acres, and improvements, he pays $2,500.

—The Country Gentleman says that furs can be preserved by hanging them in a very dark closet, and keeping the door shut; keep it always dark and you will have no trouble. The miller that deposits the eggs from which moths are hatched only moves in the light; the moths themselves work in the dark.

—A Mr. Joseph J. Taylor lately made the acquaintance of a stranger on a train of cars near Lewistown. They arrived in Philadelphia gay and happy, put up at the Washington House, roomed together, and the next morning Mr. Taylor woke up to find his friend gone, and with him five hundred and ninety dollars. Beware of car acquaintances.

☞Miss D. L. Baker respectfully informs the public, that she is now ready to oblige all that may favor her with their custom. Dress making and sewing of all kinds done. She is agent for the Florence Sewing Machine. See advertisement in another column. 2t.

Local News.

The Harrisburg State Guard is impertinent enough to ask the question, why is it that so many weekly papers in this State treat the local news of the county with indifference? Now, it is evident that fellow who asked the question hasn't had the distinguished honor of being a "local" on a country paper. If he had been one, he would have been the last to ask such a question. It is true, everybody likes to read the local news, and we wouldn't give much for the man, or woman either, who didn't. To a family away from their native county, the news about their old homestead as recorded in the town paper, is of cheering character, something akin to a letter from a friend. "Locals" generally on country newspapers, know this; but we would like to ask what are they going to do when "local news are as scarce as hen-teeth;" or as "rare as June bugs in January?" We would like very much to accomodate the city dailies with items; but unless we, like they, in many instances, resort to manufactured news, we cannot get anything of a truly local nature, until some event transpires worthy of note. Local editors ought to be assisted in their labors, because they can't be everywhere gathering items and if anybody has anything of a local character to tell a friend far away he can't do better than communicate it through the papers. Not until then will the papers be full of "locals," and we suggest to our friends in the county to come to the help of the local editors and make their paper interesting in that particular.

Sidewalk Etiquette.

We are glad to notice our exchanges giving the public a few common sense rules on etiquette in public. We especially commend the following to our readers, many of whom practice one or all of the foolish customs noted, thinking that they are right, simply because somebody else does so:

Only villagers, or persons with rural ideas, any longer contend that ladies should always be given the inside of the pavement in passing. The rule adopted in all cities is to turn to the right, whether the right leads to the wall or to the gutter, and an observance of this common sense rule would obviate much unpleasant "scrouging" by over-gallant gentlemen who persistently crowd for the outside of the walk. Another common custom, not required even by fashionable etiquette, and one which is nearly as inexplainably absurd, is the practice of a whole string of men filing out of a church pew, making themselves as ridiculous as an 'awkward squad' practicing at 'catch step,' in order to give a woman the wrong end of the pew. Another is that of a man when at promenade or walk with a lady, to keep himself on the outside of the pavement. A little exercise of judgment will convince any person of the utter uselessness of this bobbing back and forth at every corner. The common rule is this: "If men and women are walking together, she should always be at his right arm, whether it be toward the inside or outside of the walk: then the woman will not be shoved against the passers." Those who giggle at persons who follow this rule are themselves "greenies," and should read the "book of manners" before they indulge in the laugh of fashionable fools.

Good Templar Convention.

The Good Templars of the West Juniata District assembled in quarterly Convention, at Bloody Run, on Tuesday of last week and remained in session until Thursday. There was a large number of delegates in attendance, and some important business transacted. We had the pleasure, as we are wont at such pleasant gatherings, to make the acquaintance of many of the earnest workers in the temperance movement. The next Convention is to be held at Altoona, the second Tuesday in September, and Mr. A. S. Stevens was elected W. C. T. Though the weather during the session was inclement, the good people of Bloody Run contributed largely to the comfort of the delegates by their hospitality.

Installation.

The following officers of Standing Stone Lodge, No. 85, I O. of. G. T., were installed on Monday evening of last week.

J. Greene; W. D. M., Miss Kate Cunninghan; W. R. H. S., Peter Isenberg; W. L. H. S, Miss Belle Glazier; W. I. G., Miss Mary Wise; W. O. G., Hugh Lindsey.

On the same evening W. K. Crites was elected Representative to the Grand Lodge, which meets in Williamsport, the second Wednesday in June, and A. J. Reilly Lodge Deputy.

The Great Miltonian Tableaux from London, England.

J. C. Ashley, the advance Agent of this most extraordinary exhibition in the world has been in this place and has made arrangements for its appearance here, as exhibited in London for two hundred and eighty nights to half a million of people, including Her Majesty Queen Victoria, and the entire court of Buckingham Palace. It has received the highest encomiums from the Press, Clergy, Nobility and Prelates of England, all pronouncing it the most sublime and beautiful work of modern times, illustrating as it does the grandest subjects in the world. Will exhibit at the Court House on the 14th, 15th, and 16th inst. Admission, 25 cts. children, 10 cents.

"Be You One."

The following little anecdote may come in good play at the present time;

A gentleman travelling through one of the rural precincts of a certain county, rode up to a farm house and thus accosted a tow-headed urchin who was seated on a top gate-post: "Bub, where's your pa?" The youngster replied: "Papa's just gone there beyant the cow shed to dig a grave to bury our old dog Towser. The darned old fool killed hisself a barkin' at candidates for sheriff. Be you one?" Our friend rode on.

Suicide.

A young man named John Hawn, who resided about two miles from this place, in Juniata township, committed suicide on Wednesday last, by taking strychnine. He came to town on Monday to get a tooth extracted, and while here he bought the poison. On Wednesday afternoon he took the strychnine (some say by mistake) and immediately its violent effects were visible in the intensity of his sufferings, and death ended his misery during the night.

Discovery of a Wonderful Cave:

A new and wonderful cave has been discovered in Armagh township, Mifflin county. A correspondent of the Lewistown Gazette, from Milroy, gives the following description of it:

On the 24th of April, while Charles Nageny, of Milroy, was having a site dug for a limekiln, he was surprised by finding an opening in the side of the hill. The moment it came to view a strong stream of air began oozing forth, like the pressing of a pair of bellows; the work was continued until the aperture opened in size large enough to allow the body to crawl in, and then it was found to be a splendid cave, with gorgeous subterranean gangways; during the week the work progressed, and a formal entrance was made. On Saturday, 2d of May, the citizens of Milroy and vicinity had the pleasure of a full view. The attendance was composed of about one hundred and fifty ladies and gentlemen.—Lights being at hand, having been furnished by Mr. Nagony, it made the affair quite interesting. After first entering, we found ourselves enclosed in a narrow underground path, for the distance of twelve feet; here the great cave came to view: the gangway about fifteen feet wide, with gigantic walls of rock, was a direct line of about sixty feet, in the centre of which we behold the hanging or projecting rocks, in the shape of a mantel, underneath which, were small, crystalized rocks, long and hollow, appearing like icicles on a house in winter time.—Here we turned to the right, and had a full sight of the "Platform Rock," a natural platform, about three feet above the level of the floor, and running together in the center; above it was a shelf or canopy, which indeed presented a sublime sight. Here, one hundred and seventy feet under the ground, and in natural formed rooms or gangways, with a splendid spring of fresh water beneath your feet, who could not realize that the hands of nature had truly been at work here. A short distance farther on, we beheld the hanging lamp, and then came the subterranean chamber, situated below, where the rocks seemed to be more marbleized, as they are firmer, whiter and more solidly settled.

After returning, we, with the assistance of a ladder, provided by Mr. Nagony, were enabled to take a look up stairs. Here was another chamber, with colossal walls of rocks, which presented a sight never to be forgotten; the distance traversed was about 600 feet. The air within is very warm, and the floor or ground seems as if cemontad, and is firm and solid. The diagram is in the shape of an H written, and very neatly laid out. The base of the springs are like small pebbles laid aside of each other, with a border composed of a larger size.

The cave is situate on the line of the Mifflin and Centre County Railroad, about three-fourths of a mile below Milroy, and is a grand and sublime sight—a relic of nature's handiwork that Mifflin county may some day be proud of. It will be open for visitors, during the coming week, when all who may wish to improve themselves in the study of nature's works, may have an opportunity to visit it.

THE "Messenger of Health," edited at the Pennsylvania Institute of Medicine, contains articles on Dyspepsia, Chills and Fever, and Kidney Affections, in which the writer positively declares that the whole science of Medicine possesses no remedy for the cure of those diseases, that is half as efficacious as Miehler's Herb Bitters. OF THE WAR,

ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.

By Hon. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

A Book for all Sections and all Parties.

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

JOHNSTON & W

The Globe.

[From the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise, March 23.]

A Nevada Widow Erects a Tombstone to Her Husband and is Visited by Him on the Eve of Second Marriage.

About four years ago Henry Thomas married a young lady—no matter about her name—in the town of V—— C—— county, Carolina. About a year after their marriage Thomas concluded it best for both that he should come over the Sierra Nevada mountains and find work in our mines. Leaving his wife in California, he came here and obtained employment in a mine on Gould Hill. For some time all went well, and the wife heard regularly her husband; then came a long and painful silence. Making inquiries by letter, she learned that a man named Henry Thomas, and answering the description in every respect to her husband, has been killed by a cave-in in the very mine he had written her he was working.

She came over the mountains, and was shown the grave of her husband in the cemetery near American Flat.—Obtaining employment at the hotel of Mrs. W——ly, in this city, she was soon able to erect a handsome tombstone over the grave of her dear departed, and, enclosing it with handsome paling, planted rosebushes about the grave. All this passed nearly three years ago, and her time of mourning having expired, she was wooed and won by a man whose acquaintance she had made here in Silverland. The day was fixed for the union of the loving pair, and during the past week, the widow was at work making the wedding garments. However, "there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip." Day before yesterday came to the hotel of Mrs. W——ly a man whom she once recognized as the veritable and genuine Henry Thomas, having known him in California, previous to and after the time of his marriage. At first he denied being the man she has known, but finally admitted the fact upon being posted as to how matters were going in American Flat, the present residence of his wife. He went to see her, and presenting himself to her found her knew him, when she turned coolly away. He then made himself known, and related so many circumstances that there was no room to doubt that he who stood before her was really her husband. At last she admitted that she know him, but told him plainly that she wanted nothing more to do with him. As she had once mourned over his grave, and performed her duty in erecting a tombstone and planting rosebushes thereon she perhaps thought that ought to suffice for not only one, but half a dozen Henry Thomases. Being unable to obtain any further satisfaction, the husband came back to this city, where he is now, undecided what course to pursue. It is pretty clear that the wedding cannot go on in the present state of the "situation," and it is said that a divorce suit will be the next step taken by the wife or widow whichever she may be called. But we hear that there are even troubles in this direction, the lady being very religious and belonging to a church that does not believe in divorces.

The Corpution Which is Attending the Grants of Land and Subsidies of Public Money to Railroad Corporations.

It is full time attention were directed to that part of the proceedings of Congress which are designed to convey large grants of land and subsidies of money to railroad corporations.—The entire interest of the people has for many weeks centered in impeachment. In the meantime the lobby at Washington has been busy "setting up" and pushing through both Houses of Congress, some of the most stupendous frauds on the treasury that have ever heretofore or can possibly hereafter affect the public credit and resources. Hundreds of thousands of acres of public land, millions of public money are voted by Congress to corporations as if the nation was clamoring to get rid of these valuables. The best land, that most elegible, fruitful in agricultural and inexhaustible in mineral resources, is now in the possession of monopolies, of individuals whose inordinate greeds must sooner or later affect emigration to the west, for the reason that the land which these men hold along the lines of the great railroads now being constructed, will be held at prices which the laboring men cannot pay, and which, as we have already stated, will affect general and national prosperity, by the creation of a landed aristocracy who will assume to control public affairs entirely for their own interest. There never was a subject before the country in which the people were as vitally interested as they are in the free grants of land made by Congress to the great railroad corporations of the West. It has fearfully corrupted Congress. Senators and Representatives suddenly find themselves the owners of vast domain.—More public land is deeded to members of the present Congress, than was held and owned by members of all the Congresses which preceded it. It is time remonstrances were sent into Congress on this subject. While Mr. Seward is wasting millions of money to purchase far off domain, the public land at home is swept from the possession of government, without a return in value, and with the prospect of creating new dangers to the securities of a free government, by building up monopolies which will some day assume to control all authority in their own interest. Congressmen are deeply concerned in these gigantic frauds on the people.—Senators and Representatives are reaping handsome profits from votes granting such lands to corporations, and in the meantime the people are indifferent to the lands. It is high time this entire scheme is exposed; time that the people admonished their Representatives on this subject, and time that Congress is arrested in its career of wild extravagance in voting to corporations the land which belongs to the people and should only be given away as homesteads.—Harrisburg State Guard.

For Intermittent Fever or Chills and Fever this Bitters is a specific far better and surer than quinine.
